

CPR Certification

Students enrolled in Service Learning in Health Sciences are required to have current CPR certification. The certification must be current through the end of the semester.

CPR certification ensures that you know what to do in the event of a medical emergency. This is a very valuable aspect of health care and many would argue that all people should receive knowledge in this area as you never know when a medical emergency will happen.

Types of CPR Certification

To successfully complete the requirements of the Vera Z. Dwyer College of Health Sciences, ~~students are to have a certification from the American Heart Association or from a comparable organization. Students must complete a hands on competency portion. Students with a current certification from the American Red Cross should connect with the instructor prior to submitting the assignment.~~

~~Medical facilities often have their own requirements for CPR Certification. Students should connect with their Community Site Supervisor to ensure their certification meets the needs of the site.~~

How to Submit Certification

A copy of the CPR Certification demonstration the expiration date should be submitted in this Canvas assignment as a PDF document. Please also note that many certifications have two parts: an online knowledge test and a face to face skills test. You need to provide proof of both exam sections.
